

Terri Alani, D.D.S.

5636 Westheimer
Houston, TX 77056
(713) 621-5141

For the past 25 years, Terri Alani, D.D.S. has built her dental practice on the motto that "A beautiful smile speaks when you don't." Her greatest joy as a dentist is to see her patients' reactions to their smile makeovers. She understands the profound physical and emotional affect they have on all of her patients, from models to the girl next door. Dr. Alani enjoys the special bond she forms with her patients and strives to provide exceptional dental services with a personal touch.

After receiving her B.S. from Texas A&M University and attending graduate school in civil engineering, Dr. Alani came to Houston to earn her D.D.S. from the University of Texas Dental School. She is an active member of the American Dental Association, the Texas Dental Association, as well as the Greater Houston District Dental Society. When she's away from the dental chair, Dr. Alani is an avid fitness enthusiast, who loves swimming, running and keeping up with her two teenage children.

You can catch Dr. Alani and her brother Wayne, an orthopedic surgeon, on their radio show "For Your Health With Terri & Wayne" Saturdays at 2 p.m. on 1320 AM. The show offers a wealth of information on current health-related topics in a humorous and entertaining format. Tune in weekly to hear special guest experts offer health information in their field of expertise.

Focus: Aesthetic dentistry

Education: Texas A&M, B.S.; University of Texas – Houston, D.D.S.